PUCC Director And Registrar Visit Georgia

Mr. Gyte and Mr. Tackett, Director and Assistant Director of the Purdue Calumet Center, recently attended the 42nd Annual Convention of the National University Extension Association. The convention was held this year at the University of Georgia in Athens, Georgia. This is an annual meeting of university extension directors who meet to discuss different problems confronting them. This year about 125 representatives of various university extensions were present. From Purdue Extensions were the Director of the Indianapolis Center, who traveled with Mr. Gyte and Mr. Tackett, and the Director of the Ft. Wayne Center.

The Purdue Extension program found favor among the different universities. At Purdue Centers the plans of study are arranged in sequences, whereas, after having completed two full years at a Purdue Center, one is fully prepared for his junior year at the main campus. The extension program at many universities is not as well organized as it is at Purdue and does not fully prepare the student for completion of courses at the main campus.

Another problem that faces many university centers is the accreditation of their courses by other universities. Purdue Centers have an advantage here also, for courses offered at an off campus extension receive the same accreditation as the same courses offered at the main campus. These and many other problems were discussed at the convention this year. The convention next year will be held at the University of Utah.

PUCC OFFERS TEACHER WORKSHOPS

Purdue University Calumet Center is again presenting workshops for teachers in the Calumet region during the summer months. In answer to the numerous demands made by teachers for advanced study in the field of Education, two workshops are scheduled for the month of June. The first, Developmental Reading for Teachers, carrying three semester hours of credit, is scheduled for June 10-28. The second, "The Teacher's Part in Guidance," allows two semester hours of credit and is scheduled for June 17-28. Credits in both cases are graduate level.

The course in Developmental Reading for Teachers will be conducted by Mr. M. W. Tillson, Assistant Professor of English at Purdue University. He will be ably assisted by Dr. John Tuckey of the Calumet Center English staff.

Dr. Tillson has a bachelor's degree from Earlham College and master's and doctor's degrees from Denver University.

Dr. Tuckey holds the Doctor of Philosophy degree in the field of English from Notre Dame University. He has been on the Calumet staff four years.

The intensive course in Developmental Reading for teachers will meet five days a week, Monday through Friday, from June 10-28, at Purdue University Calumet Center. The course is designed to help experienced teachers teach and administer reading programs in their own schools. The course will include the following activities: interning in reading laboratories, lectures on the theoretical

Trustees Visit PUCC

On Monday, May 13, the Calumet Center had visitors from the administrative staff at Lafayette, the Board of Trustees, and local business, service, and political groups. All the visitors were impressed with the center.

The group stopped in Hammond while on a two-day tour of outlying educational centers. The group toured the buildings on 171st St. along with the armory. The executive administrative staff from the campus was present in full force. Many of the Board of Trustees had never seen Calumet Center.

Among those present were: President Hovde, R. B. Stewart, D. R. Mallett, C. W. Beese, Stanley E. Bejger, Wm. Bercik, Edward C. Dowling, the Board of Trustees, local business leaders, and part of the Hammond Times staff.

PURDUE ALUMNI HOLD DINNER

The Lake County Purdue Club and the Purdue Alumni Association are sponsoring a dinner and get-together at the San Remo Restaurant in Highland. The visitors from the campus will be: Don Mallett, Executive Dean; Bob Demoss, Assistant Football Coach; Ray Eddy, Basketball Coach; and Joe Rudolph, Executive Secretary, Alumni Association. The main attraction of the evening will be a Purdue Campus Newsreel (with sound and color) and highlights of the Purdue-Notre Dame Football Game.

FACULTY MEMBERS ATTEND BANQUET

On April 25, Miss Stark and Mr. Tinkham went to Lafayette to attend the literary banquet at the campus. Lillian Hellman, playwright, was the main speaker. They observed a writing laboratory which replaces English I on the campus, and they had interviews with Professor Glenn Griffin, who serves as liaison between the English department of the campus and those of the several Purdue Centers. Unfortunately, they did not meet any former PUCC students.

NOTICE

There will be a general assembly Tuesday, May 21, from 11 to 12 a.m. in the lounge. Dean Donald R. Mallett, Executive Dean of Purdue, will speak on "The Future of Calumet Center." All degree classes will be excused for this lecture.

Hey! Faculty members. The office girls don't want to work Memorial Day. Please turn your grades in early.

Top honor students being congratulated by Mr. Gyte.

Tug O' War Victory Goes to Frosh

On May 15, in a two-out-of-three heat tug o' war, the mighty Freshmen again whipped the Sophomores. Although greatly outweighed, the Freshmen took the victory in the first two attempts. At no time were the Sophomores in the lead. The weight advantage on the Sophomore side of the line must have been either lead or fat, but it was surely not muscle.

Doctor Wilson, who officiated at this contest, counted to three and dropped his hand. The white marker on the rope trembled between the markers; then it suddenly surged toward the Freshmen and did not stop till it was well beyond the finish line. After the first heat, the Sophomores must have lost faith, for the Freshmen won the second heat more easily than the first. Once again will the Freshmen be honored on the plaque by the main interest. Three cheers for the MIGHTY FRESHMEN!

Times Sponsors Boilermaker Awards

Mr. James S. DeLaurier, Publisher of the Hammond Times, has agreed to sponsor the Boilermaker awards. Jim Hoffman recently visited the Hammond Times and talked with Mr. DeLaurier; Mr. Davidson, Editor; and Mr. Lees, Advertising Manager. The Hammond Times is responsible for the Boilermaker pins and the plaque that will be hung in the hall. Many thanks to The Hammond Times.

Dear faculty members, please be kind to those students who seem to be suffering from those dreadful Spring diseases. This is the time of the year that Spring Fever, Fishin' Fever, and Baseballitis are most contagious. Just remember, you were young once!

29 T.I. Students Graduate in June

Purdue University Calumet Center is proud to announce that twenty-nine students will receive diplomas from the Technical Institute in June, 1957. Commencement exercises are to be held on the Purdue Campus at West Lafayette, on Sunday afternoon, June 2.

The graduates from the Technical Institute have successfully completed the two year curriculum in one of the various technologys offered at the Calumet Center. Several of the graduates have attended evening classes on a part-time basis, while the remainder of them attended classes on a full-time basis. All but one of the graduates will receive a two year Associate Technical Aide Diploma. Mr. Herbert Clark will receive a Technical Aide Diploma signifying the satisfactory completion of three years of work in the Technical Institute. The graduates are as follows:

Electrical Technology:

Lloyd E. Anderson
James O. Collins
Edmund P. Davison
Anthony J. DeRosa
Robert R. Engle
William A. Frediani
Emanuel Grammas
Charles E. Hammer
Charles R. Lannin
Daniel O'Neil
Herbert Clark
Robert S. Pokorski
Max Smith

Drafting and Mechanical Technology

Kenneth G. Blank
Jack S. Clark
Alex Buchko, Jr.

Miss Stark Attends AAUW Conference At Bloomington

On Friday, May 3, Miss Stark went to Bloomington, Indiana, where she attended the Indiana Division, AAUW Convention. At this convention, she attended speeches given by the National Offices of the American Association of University Women, a tea at the home of Herman B. Wells, president of I.U., and a banquet. There was a dance and verse presentation by Indiana University dancers, and a choral presentation at the chapel, representing four religions.

As State Arts Chairman, Miss Stark gave a report relating of Branch Arts interests. Last June Miss Stark finished a two-year term as president of the Calumet Area AAUW. Miss Stark returned to Hammond the following Sunday, after a brief trip to Brown County.

PUCC Honors Day Program

Opened by Mr. Tackett at eleven o'clock last Wednesday, the Honors Day Program gave recognition to those students who have achieved something special in their chosen fields. The opening song, "America, The Beautiful," was sung by Mrs. Wilson, and the opening ceremonies were completed when the invocation was given by Rev. Paul Ammerman of the Woodmar Reformed Church.

Mr. Tackett introduced Mr. Gyte, the director of PUCC for the past ten years. Under his direction, PUCC has grown from a body of a few hundred students to a dynamic educational institution with more than twenty-five hundred students. The Honor Students introduced at this point in the program were divided into three categories: College Credit Distinguished Students, College Credit Calumet Honor Students, and Technical Institute Honor Students.

Distinguished Students—14 credit hours—average of 5.0 or more.

Chasteler, Charlene Rae
Cole, David Edward
Cox, Norman Dee

Phil Szpiech Chosen PUCC Student Council Pres. Elect

The Student Council held its annual election on May 10. Phil Szpiech was elected president for 1957-58. Jim Martin was elected vice-president. The representatives from the Freshmen, Sophomore and T.I. class will be elected in the fall. The Social chairman and Orientation chairman will be appointed by the new President before the end of the year. Bernie Wontorek, the president, presided and announced that the new officers will be installed on May 22 and the meeting will be a luncheon at the home of Dr. and Mrs. L. Winston Cone.

Around the World

By Geza Cseri
BUDAPEST

The soft, comfortable seat of the No. 2 class and the rattling of the wheels of the Orient Express put me to a light sleep, and memories of twenty years ago flashed through my mind.

I was traveling on the same train, toward the same direction, and to the same place—Budapest. It was June then. It was early morning when I arrived and the city was already flooded with sunshine. As I stood on the square of the Western Station, I was able to observe the beautiful, smartly dressed women of the gay city of Budapest. The taxi, which I had taken, drove through the Vaci ut, the 5th Ave. of Budapest, where I could see the beautifully decorated store windows, and also the elegantly dressed shoppers of Saturday morning.

The taxi took me to the Gellert Hotel, one of the best in the city. It is located by the Danube on the hilly region of Buda, where an excellent view can be gained.

After a few hours of rest, I walked out of my hotel, and strolled along the Danube toward the "Korzo," where the happy young people of Budapest meet. The Korzo is bordered with trees and restaurants. From these restaurants, music could be heard. As I passed by, at one place, a romantic scene attracted my attention. A "Primas" was playing a gentle, soft, tender, romantic Hungarian melody to the ears of a young couple in love. Further down, a Frenchman was singing a new chanson which prompted the young couples to look into each other's eyes. Still farther down, a jazz piano was playing a new hit from America, to which dancing began.

It was around one o'clock in the morning when I returned from my adventure to the hotel. By this time the gay, active, happy, and carefree people of the city had turned to rest. The windows of the houses were dark, and only the magnificent buildings of the Fisher Bastion, the Royal Palace, the Parliament, the Matthias Church, were illuminated only these and the bridges, the main boulevards. With this picture in mind I went to bed.

Later, I woke up, and it was time too, because the train had pulled into the station. The April sky was cloudy and a breeze was blowing. As I stepped out of the station, the whole picture of Budapest changed. Buildings in ruins could be seen. The women who passed by wore almost ragged dresses. I revisited the old places, but I could not find the gayety and the happiness for which Budapest was so famous before. There was no Hungarian "Gypsy" music because it is reactionary, no American jazz because it is capitalistic. In the city there is nothing else but misery. When I returned to my hotel and looked out the window, I could see nothing but darkness; only the "red stars" on top of the mentioned buildings were illuminated. With a sad heart I went to bed and decided that I would never return until the city will be free.

14 Men Complete P.F. Program

Purdue university Calumet Center is proud to announce that fourteen men from industry will receive certificates from the professional foremanship program. Graduation exercises are to be held Tuesday evening, June 4. The American Society of Professional Foremen planned this year's program.

Mr. Eugene Gambril, supervisor of training at the Standard Oil company of Whiting, Indiana, will give the commencement address. Mr. Gambril is well known in the Calumet region as an authority on training. Mr. Thad Lutz of the Inland Steel company and a long time instructor of management at Purdue Calumet center, will make the presentation of diplomas. Mr. Elmer Boyens, of International Harvester company of Chicago, and a member of the American Society of Professional Foremen, will act as master of ceremonies.

The professional foremanship course is a specialized training program designed to meet the needs of management which is vitally concerned with job training of foremen for positions of leadership. The certificate of professional foremanship is restricted to candidates who have had at least two years of experience as foremen, supervisor, or in some other managerial capacity. Each year the graduates become members of the American Society of Professional Foremen. Members of the graduating class are as follows:

1. Robert W. Backus, Foreman in the Machine Repair Department, West Pullman Works, International Harvester Company, Chicago, Illinois.
2. Dan W. Banos, Engineer in the Industrial Engineering Department of the Gary Sheet and Tin Mill, Gary, Indiana.
3. John R. Baron, Assistant General Foreman in the North Machine Shop at the Gary Sheet and Tin Mill, Gary, Indiana.
4. George Davies, Jr., Turn Foreman in the Galvanized Department of the Gary Sheet and Tin Mill, Gary, Indiana.
5. Thomas E. DeBarge, General Foreman in the Mason and Insulating Department, Sinclair Refining Company, East Chicago, Indiana.
6. Joseph Lissey, Supervisor in the Accounting Department, Gary Sheet and Tin Mill, Gary, Indiana.
7. John P. Maguire, Unit Foreman in the M.O.&S. Department, American Steel Foundries, Hammond Division, Hammond, Indiana.
8. Joseph A. Miller, Maintenance Assistant in the Shop Planning Department of the Mechanical Division, Standard Oil Company of Whiting, Indiana.
9. Everett L. Purkey, Supervisor and Relief Foreman in the Machine Shop of the Maintenance Division of the Gary Sheet and Tin Mill, Gary, Indiana.
10. Wayne E. Roach, Area Foreman in the Mechanical Division, Standard Oil Company of Whiting, Indiana.
11. John H. Shultz, Crane Foreman in the Central Maintenance

"TOWERS OF MANHATTAN" A BIG SUCCESS

The lights glowed softly from the lighted windows of the "Towers of Manhattan," street lights shone down on the park benches in Grand Central Park as seventy couples danced to the dreamy music of Porter Clements and his band on April 27.

The annual semi-formal was held in the new Armory. The freshmen did a fine job of taking over the dance from the weary old sophomores.

Special mention should be made to committee men who include Phil Szpiech, co-chairman, and tickets; Rich Okray, co-chairman and decorations; Ellen Bolen, refreshments; Joe Stodola, parking; Louie Frigyes, pictures; Jim Martin, alumni publicity; Walter Pehlen, entertainment; Bob Sveteovich, orchestra; John Stier, chaperones; Bob Stryzinski, publicity; Cathy Delinck, posters; and Judy Shaw, Carol Serena, and Margo Miles, who helped make decorations.

Faculty chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Combs, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Relich, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miller, Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wilson, Dr. and Mrs. Winston Cone, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hayes.

Fall Schedule Soon To Be Released

The 1957 fall schedule for the Purdue Calumet Center is nearly ready for release. It will carry a number of courses not offered here before, particularly for graduate students.

A number of companies are announcing educational assistance programs for their employees, many of whom are college graduates. As an attempt to help meet the needs of these groups we are scheduling some work on the graduate level. Courses listed in this group are: Indeterminate Stresses, CE 571; Advanced Engineering mathematics, Ma 521; Business Cycles, Econ 514; Government and Business, Econ 520; Intermediate Labor Economics, Econ 551; and Contemporary International Problems, Gvmt 532. We also have a class in differential equations on the evening schedule. This course is prerequisite to most other advanced classes in mathematics and may be desired by some graduate students.

Beginning in the fall of 1957 we will open a program in physical education for those who plan to make this their career. We have been authorized to offer the first two years of work on the bachelor's degree in this field after which the student would transfer to Lafayette to complete his program. The new National Guard Army has made this program possible. We have been able to secure a good deal of necessary equipment for physical education and it should be a very successful program. Robert Hayes will devote full time to this plus the recreational activities of students working in other fields.

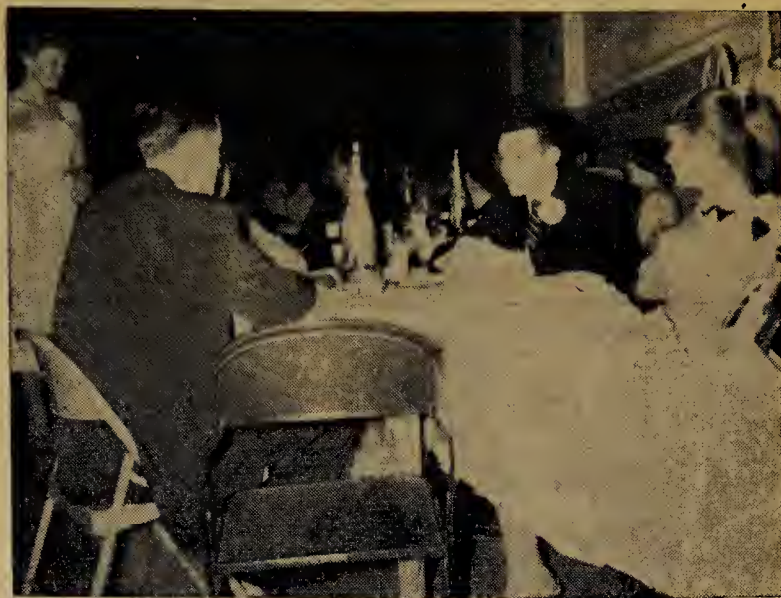

The pre-technical work of the medical technology program has been reorganized and is now an even better program than before. This is a much-needed type of training handled in cooperation with St. Margaret's Hospital in Hammond and Methodist Hospital in Gary. The program is approved by the Registry of Medical Technologists of the American Society of Clinical Pathologists with headquarters in Muncie, Indiana.

Department of the Gary Sheet and Tin Mill, Gary, Indiana.

12. John Sullivan, Mason Foreman in the Mason Department, Gary Sheet and Tin Mill, Gary, Indiana.

13. Elmer Radloff, Shift Foreman in the Inspection Department, American Steel Foundries, Hammond Division, Hammond, Indiana.

14. Jack H. Ziegler, Guide Designer, in the Roll Shop, Inland Steel Company, Chicago Heights Division, Chicago Heights, Illinois.

Prof. Nicholas Relich of our Calumet Staff was accepted by the Boeing Airplane Company of Seattle, Washington, for summer faculty employment. Boeing for the past 7 years has pioneered in providing summer projects paralleling the field of teaching for some 50 faculty men selected throughout the United States. In addition Boeing arranges tours, social events and holds seminars to enrich the faculty eight-week summer period.

Prof. Relich, who teaches Statistical Quality Control at the Calumet Center, serves also as Director for the Chicago Section of the American Society for Quality Control and will be assigned to the Quality Control Department as a Special Consultant.

Mr. Gyte also spoke on the Memorial Scholarship which has been provided in honor of the memory of Harold A. Williamson and E. D. Anderson, two men long associated with Purdue. A sum in the neighborhood of $15,000 has been invested and the yearly yield on this investment will be put into several scholarships of $100 each. In addition to these funds, PUCC has the Mark P. Anderson loan fund with which to assist students.

The entertainment for the program was graciously provided by Mrs. Wilson, a Mathematics instructor. She sang "I'll Walk Beside You" to the accompaniment provided by Mr. Wilbur G. Crane at the piano.

Mrs. Virginia Cone, the Chairman of Student Affairs Committee, made the announcement of the students who were to be cited for their accomplishments in the field of extra-curricular activities. The following people received Certificates of Recognition for Boilermaker accomplishments.

Also honored for Student Council work and Student Social Activity Committee work were:

Bernard Wontorek, president;
John Stiers, vice-president; Charlene Chastler, treasurer; and Marjy Meek, secretary. Vince Pon-gracz, Fall Social Chairman; and Rich O'Kray and Phil Szpiech, Spring Social Co-Chairmen.

The address was given by Mr. L. Winston Cone who has just recently returned from a seven-week visit to Ghana. Since he travelled and met people all over that little country, he was well qualified to present his topic, "Ghana Independence—First-Hand Observation and Significance." He views Ghana as a young nation faced with difficult problems but comprised of a dynamic and resolute people who know what they want and are willing to work for their goals.

T. I. Alumni Dinner Planned

Plans are being made for the annual Purdue Technical Institute alumni graduation dinner. This annual event, held in honor of the graduating class, will be held on Saturday evening, May 25, 6:30 p.m. in the Purdue center student lounge.

Mr. William Soudriette, manager of Cities Service Oil Company, is to be the main speaker. Mr. Millard E. Gyte, director of the Calumet center, will introduce the graduates. Mr. Thomas Kummerer of the Ford Motor company, aircraft engine division, Chicago, will introduce the alumni and make alumni comments. Professor M. D. Adams, acting head of the Purdue technical institute, will give a memorial for the late Von Roy Daugherty.

SATCH OKRAY

A six-foot, 175-lb., nineteen year old, black-haired sophomore here at the Center who takes a very active interest in student activities, which consist of the newspaper, where he writes Beef'n'Corn, and the Student Council, is Satch Okray. Satch plans to go down to the campus in September, 1958, and upon graduation he wants to go down to South America to work as a civil engineer. Satch lives in Calumet City and attended T F, where he majored in college prep.

Satch enjoys his social life, is a motor enthusiast, and enjoys indoor sports. His pet peeve is women who don't know how to drive.

When asked what they thought about Satch, Bob Svetovich said (Bob is Satch's right-hand man), "Satch Okray is a rare combination of brilliance in rough, and wildness is a superior factor in his make up."

Bob Foster said, "Satch is one of the finest something or others I've ever known."

Marjy Meek said, "At one time he was a little bit loaded to suit me, but he seems to be growing up. Now I don't know a guy I would rather have for a friend."

Margo Miles said, "Satch is a real great guy once you get to know him, and he's a lot of fun to be with. I've never seen anyone who worked as hard on a project and with such enthusiasm. I'm proud to have him as a friend."

Pointed for Purdue

May 21—Purdue Alumni Club of Lake County is having its annual spring dinner at 7 p.m. at San Remo's Restaurant in Highland—tickets for this event may be purchased from Nick Relich or Dick Combs.

May 24 — Inland Steel and Youngstown classes end.

May 25 — Technical Institute Graduation dinner in the lounge. Faculty members make reservations for this at a later date.

May 29—Class cards must be delivered to the office of the Calumet Campus by 12:00 noon of this date.

June 2—Commencement at Lafayette at 2:30 p.m. Dean Beese is planning to have the annual picnic at his home immediately following the graduation exercises. All faculty members and their families are cordially invited.

June 4—Professional Foreman-ship graduation exercises.

June 5—Inland Steel Graduation.

BONNIE FELTER

While attending Merrillville High School, Bonnie studied business and took a college prep course. She was president of the Speech Club, vice-president of GAA, and belonged to many other organizations.

Bonnie always dreamed of going some day to Purdue, and in 1956, when she graduated from high school, her dreams were answered: she enrolled at PUCC, and this fall she will leave us to go down to campus. Bonnie is enrolled in civil engineering.

As Bonnie talked she happened to mention an incident that occurred when she graduated from high school. It seems a teacher said, "A woman's place is in the home" (the teacher was male, of course). Bonnie wasn't going to let him get away with that and kindly retorted, "I am going to be the first woman President of the U.S." Bonnie said her pet peeve is that some men think women can't hold their own in the business world.

Her favorite colors are pastel blue and pink. Her favorite food is lots of hamburgers and steak.

Since Bonnie doesn't believe in going steady, we will put in some additional information. Hair: brown; eyes: brown; age: eighteen; phone no.: TUrner 4-5334 (she prefers men with personality and manners).

Also, she is looking for a friendly mechanic who prefers summer work; she has car—needs fixin'.

DR. TUCKEY

Dr. John S. Tuckey graduated from the University of Notre Dame in 1943 with a B.A. in English. He then served in the Naval Reserve for three years, after which he worked for one year as an accountant for the Owens-Illinois Glass Co. In 1947 he entered the graduate school at Notre Dame and again majored in English. He received his Master's degree in 1949 and the Ph.D. in 1953. While working for his advanced degrees, he worked as a part-time teacher. Dr. Tuckey was born in Washington, D. C., but lived most of his early years in northern Indiana.

When asked how he liked the Calumet area, he replied that he likes it because it offers the advantages of a metropolitan area plus easy access to the open country. He likes Hammond because of its half industry and half small town atmosphere. He thinks all very large cities will, in the years to come, have to work very hard to eliminate blight areas. Although the Calumet area is heavily populated, it is relatively new. He likes the feeling of growth in the area.

Golf, hiking, rowing, photography, bowling, watching baseball, reading, gardening, and amateur carpentry are among his interests. He also likes natural beauty, in which he thinks New York and California rank at the top. Dr. Tuckey is also a writer and is working on a novel as time permits, and on a critical book on Mark Twain.

The Student Council Speaks

Some twenty-eight couples showed up to go on the Hay Ride on May 11. The ride was held at the Clark Farm near Schererville. Everyone brought their box lunches and returned to the Center for coffee, punch and dancing to records until 11:30. Joe Stodola and Bert Suter were co-chairmen of the hay ride.

One of the more successful record dances was held on April 13 when about 40 showed up in the Student Lounge to decorate and have a Laissez Faire Party. Some danced, played cards, chess or just sat and talked. Not much work was done, but everyone had a fine time.

There is talk of a beach party. So far it is a very hush, hush affair. We may get more information later.

The work shop looks unnatural since Satch cleaned it up.

LaVerne Landwehr is handling the annual soft ball game between the students and faculty. He is having a hard time finding enough faculty who want to risk life and limb in a soft ball game.

Beef 'n' Corn

"Margo, get your little brother's hat out of that mud puddle."

"I can't, Ma, he's got it strapped too tight under his chin."

Clyde Rector: "You can't flunk me."

Mr. Dwyer: "Why not?"

order that the teachers may get practical experience in teaching developmental reading, a special demonstration class of high school students is being arranged to participate in the program daily.

The Guidance Workshop will be conducted by Dr. Elizabeth Wilson, Professor of Education and Humanities at Purdue University at Lafayette. Dr. Wilson has been a member of the Purdue Staff since 1946.

The Workshop on the Teacher's Part in Guidance carries two semester hours of graduate or undergraduate credit. This workshop meets five days a week, Monday through Friday, from June 17-28. This workshop is planned to familiarize teachers with various types of guidance programs used by different schools of the country and to emphasize the importance of the teacher's role in these programs. The programs reviewed will include both elementary and secondary guidance functions. All teachers who were enrolled in the course under the same title a year ago are eligible for enrollment in the workshop also since it carries variable credit.

P. U. C. C. WHIPS U. OF CHICAGO

A total of fifteen hits and seven errors gave the Boilermakers a 21-5 victory over the Chicago University baseball team in the opening game of the Center's first season.

The game started out in a free-for-all as the Maroons from Chicago scored four runs in the first inning and one in the second on three hits and five errors while PUCC scored three runs in the same number of innings on three hits and three errors.

Settling down, Chuck "Pop" Lannin pitched no-hit ball after the second inning and was backed up beautifully with 18 runs by his team mates as two Maroon pitchers were pounded into the ground.

Leading the onslaught was Bob Foster with three hits which included a triple that accounted for two of his three runs batted in. Chuck Lannin also collected three hits with one RBI while Clyde Rector, knocked in four runs with two singles and a sacrifice fly.

Two other guns for PUCC were Whity Landwehr and Jim O'Connell with a triple and a double and two runs apiece batted in.

Coach Hayes was very much pleased at his team's first performance, but he will have them work out on their fielding because errors in close games can be very costly.

Purdue Alumni News

In a series of meetings held last month at the Purdue Calumet Center, the Lake County Alumni group agreed that three major activities yearly preplanned well in advance and somewhat diversified would be well received. Attending these gatherings were the following alumni: Steven Krstovich (President), Maurice Bunnell, Isabel Swatts, Mrs. W. Dietrich, Steve Manich, Marilyn Forbes, Robert Steiger, John Smar, Nick Trbovich, Gene Nottoli, Andy Costaus, Nicholas Relich, Allen J. Warren.

The annual spring dinner to be held May 21st at San Remo's in Highland was planned by the above group acting in close cooperation with R. J. Rudolph, executive secretary of the Purdue Alumni Association. Dr. R. Mallett, Executive Dean Purdue University, will be featured speaker at the Purdue Lake County Alumni Club spring dinner. Other guests from the campus will include Ray Eddy, basketball coach, and Bob De Moss, assistant football coach. The tickets for the 7:00 p.m. gathering will be $3.25 per person. Alumni can bring guests to this dinner. Tickets will be available at the Purdue Center office. A short film depicting Purdue campus life of the present will be included in the program. For optional viewing at the conclusion of the dinner, will be a football film of recent date for gridiron enthusiasts.

"FADS and FASHIONS"

Spring has come to PUCC in a swirl of fashions. This may be taken literally, for the Purduites may be seen in buffant, pastel skirts.

Judy Shaw has a green cotton skirt that has a gold metallic print running through it. This skirt is very practical for the busy Purdue student, for it needs no iron-in.

Joan Laughy has a gray cotton dress with a pert white pique inset at the neck. The inset has gray matching buttons and a very smart-looking white bow. The skirt is semi-full, and the waist line is hugged with a black patent belt.

Lavendar seems to be a popular color this spring, and Beth Hazard thinks so too, for she has a lavender shirtwaist dress of cotton. The bodice has lace down the front, and the long sleeves are fashioned with the same lace. The skirt is full and stands out real cute with the help of her crinoline, that sounds like paper, but is really a starched nylon.

Every morning at school Loretta Leep looks as if she has just come from a flower garden. She is hardly ever seen without a pert flower to set off her attire.

Speaking of flowers, you may have noticed Sue Peterson wearing spring flowers around her new hairdo—the chignon.

Flowers are in the prints of many dresses, and if you saw Margot Miles at Honor Day assembly, you know what I mean. The dress was of a light-weight material called voile with pink, green, blue and aqua flowers throughout the material. The neckline was scooped and sleeveless. Tiny pearly buttons set off the bodice, and the full, full skirt was hugged at the waist with a matching belt.

The men at PUCC aren't going to let the women get ahead of them in the fashion world. Rob Svetovich may be seen in strictly Ivy League attire, like many of the other fellows.

Nursing News

Class nine began April 29th and brought 29 more women to begin their Practical Nurse Training here at PUCC. They have come from all over this area and are looking forward to many new experiences in which they will encounter. Class nine has run into a very unusual problem. There are two Jones girls and two Brown girls. What a problem!!!

Class six had their big day on May 19th. Graduation Day, a day they had long been waiting for. They had a lovely graduation which took place here at PUCC. Friends, relatives, and many of their past instructors were there to watch the processional of Practical Nurses, all in white as they received their diplomas. We want to wish all sixteen of the Nurses the best of luck on their state board examinations which will take place on June 28th. This is a goal they will all attain to become Licensed Practical Nurses.

Class seven is now working hard at their third affiliation. They are counting the days until their graduation. It won't be long now. September will be here before they know it.

Class Eight is just beginning their first affiliation. To them graduation seems so far away. They will be surprised to see how fast the time will go.

We are all sorry to lose Mrs. Betty Sabol, Family Living Instructor, but happy to hear she is leaving to await a blessed event. We want to welcome the new Family Living Instructor, Mrs. Doyle. Mrs. Doyle was a Home Economics teacher in South Bend previous to moving to Hammond. We are proud to say she is a graduate of Purdue University. Welcome back to Purdue!!

Congratulations are in hand once more. We are losing Miss Beverly Venzke, Miss Maginsky's secretary, for a short while. She took time out to get married and set up housekeeping.

Letter to The Campus

Dear Joanne,

All of us have recovered from that nasty cold spell. Sue Peterson seems to be the gal that started the whole extravaganza.

It doesn't seem possible that this semester is almost ended. The time has literally flown by. A great many girls are going to campus next semester, among them are Margo Miles, Carol Sarina, and Ellen Bolen. Jo Laughy is going to continue her education in Minnesota.

Barb and Greg are going steady! Congrats to them! I first saw them at the spring formal.

Sue and Geo. are going steady again. This is going to develop into an engagement ring. Sue has not set a date as of this time.

I thought you might be interested; Tony and I am going steady. Easter Saturday was the big day.

Jean and Char are learning their German by illustration. Jean has an alphabetical bill which is printed in German. This aided them in their struggle. It was intended as a jest for Char but it helped all the girls to comprehend a slight bit of German.

Jumping rope is coming back! The populous here finds that jumping the rope is a novelty. The fellows helped direct traffic through the rope.

Loretta and Judy are acclaimed gormets'. Salad supreme was made by these industrious kids a couple of days ago—the contents, mainly garlic.

Andy is coming back to the center next semester. She will begin with a new resolution — study, study, study.

A lot of new couples turned out for the hayride, among them Judy and Lou, Margot and Bert.

Lee Miller has set her wedding date for October.

The semester end is really here. I'll be seeing you during the summer I hope and writing to you next semester.

Love, Cathy.
